

Roy Vasquez

Roy Jacob Vasquez was born at St. Joseph's Medical Center in Downtown Houston and lived in the Greater Houston area for all his life and in the City of Houston, on the East side of downtown, for the past 6+ years.

Vasquez earned undergraduate and graduate degrees at the University of Houston and has worked in education for his entire adult working career. He taught psychology and algebra at a career college in the past and currently work as the Education Director for a hospital company. He has volunteered with BARC, the Houston Public Library system, and Art Colony Association.

He states that his experiences and skills make him a qualified candidate for the Mayor of Houston, but most of all his love for the City of Houston makes him a qualified candidate.
